to me

Hello,

This message is for Greg Arcade. I'm a journalist with the Canadian Anti-Hate Network reaching out for comment about an upcoming article of ours related to your connections with the Plaid Army. Could you please provide a response to the following points:

- You have worked as a web and graphic designer for Jeremy "Raging Dissident" Mackenzie, as well as the design for a separate show Faith & Liberty. Have you done the design for any other sites affiliated with the Plaid Army? Do you also make the sites for other PA accounts?
- On Telegram you have posted using antisemitic symbols like the multiple parenthesis (((()))) and references to not trusting the "long nose tribe." Do you share the views expressed by other PA members of ideas of large scale Jewish-led global conspiracies?
- The song "Among Us" talks about an enemy within, while "Accelebrate" asks the listener to applaud "when it accelerates." Are these references to other conspiracies and/or ideologies that focus on these concepts?

Thanks for any effort to answer these questions. If possible could you please respond within the next few hours.

Regards,
Peter Smith

Hello Evan Balgord et al

Odd that you would need to contact me under the guise of Peter Smith. We all know Peter Smith isn't a real person.

I don't really care for answering the questions of bullies and charlatans such as yourselves, however for the sake of obliging my own community, and so that I can post this response for my community members, and everyone who is disgusted by you for-good-reason, to laugh at, I will answer you...

In an effort to remain kind and avoid misunderstandings, perhaps you should get a dictionary...

• I work with many clients. Not just those from the Plaid Army. I do not discriminate against any clients based on who they are. That is more characteristic of your own network. Unlike yourself, I have spent much time developing my talents so as to better work with people all over the world and be of service to them. Unlike yourself, I do not judge people on their outward appearance, which, may I add, is a disgusting habit you have. You do it over and over again as you project your pedophilic power-hungry demonic-gaze out upon those in the world who wish nothing to do with you. I work with people on the merit of their character. Frankly I find it insulting that you believe all I can do is make websites. You know so little about me, and I am so much better than you at so many things. Would you like to hear about the content I have created for other clients? Do they need to be of another race for you to qualify their statements as valid because you are a racist? Are you only interested if they are black? Or maybe it is a religion thing. Muslim? I have many friends from many walks of life. Not communists though. Not marxists such as yourselves. You are vile. You are a hateful troll Evan.

• I feel the response to this question would be best served with some input from my Jewish band members, business partners, and long-time friends, all of whom believe that your slander-rag of a web-blog is nothing more than racist bullying funded by the Federal Government of Canada. While I can not respond to this immediately, I wonder if you could ask the openly anti-Semitic member of your own Canadian Anti-Hate network; the one who referred to those peacefully protesting Jewish persons as “Faggots” this past summer, if he himself has any ideas of large scale Jewish-led global conspiracies, as you so eloquently put it? A few people I know have many screenshots of him openly saying terrible things about jewish people. I believe there are videos as well, and that he was responsible for organizing anti-jewish protests... Odd that you would continue to employ and fund such an individual. Indulge me: what was his name again? I spend so little time thinking of your circles. Is this an anti-Jewish web blog? I always forget based on the actions of the contributors of your blog... and just so I know how to reference this for my audience: antihate.tumblr.com correct?

• I am so happy to hear you enjoy the music. It is quite the compliment. Lower intelligence individuals such as yourself may not be able to understand the art form, so I can understand why you might need to clarify with the artist about the messages behind the song. See, when consuming art, be it visual or audible what-have-you: it is up to the individual to use their inner-dialogue to determine what-exactly that particular piece says to them and the emotions that it may convey. I understand that someone such as yourself, one who has little-to-no inner-dialogue, may have difficulty interpreting art. What-to continually follow social pressures as you do, in addition to doing... whatever it is you may call this line of work?... Harassment? Slander? Professional-Bullying? Extortionist Intimidation? Whatever it may be; the evidence is there that the putrid hollow hole festering of noisome sores which lays in the place where your soul may have once been can not hope to ever appreciate the beauty within this world ever again. When your soul is gone or rotten, you can not simply obtain it again. I imagine this is why you chase such vile and disgusting pursuits. I have heard much about you and your “network” and the vile activities which you all celebrate. I digress from the topic of your degeneracy, albeit difficult as it is all you have to offer the world. Ultimately: songs mean what they mean to the listener. Then a fair question for you is: do you wish to accelerate? This is what you have interpreted after-all.

I find you abhorrent. I find your “network” which is a GoDaddy webspace Wordpress template blog abhorrent. I believe you to be a demon. I believe you to be sad and pathetic on the inside. I am going to share this email and your information with every government official I have had the pleasure of meeting over the years in my line of work. There are many in all parties, and yes we are all still friendly even if we disagree on policy. I would like them to see what the current government is funding. I will not alter this whatsoever. It is time for them to see exactly how vile the fruits of their labours have become. Think Evan et al, you might even get a few readers. I hear you have so few now.

I am happy you are writing this article about me. I am happy you think about me as much as you do. It shows me that I am on the correct path. When vile ghouls such as yourself feel the need to attempt to interact with those who do not even give them an ounce of their energies; well.. hah. It's humorous to me.

I guess, now that you have decided to attack me and my character without-warrant I am going to start spending all my time exposing you all for the hateful, racist, frauds that you are. You may even want to write more articles about me. That would be great. My friends and I will celebrate every one, we will laugh at your sordid attempts at writing, and the end result will be great for me: you're going to push wonderful wholesome good-hearted people, the same kind who find you vile and disgusting, towards me. We're going to laugh about you! It will be wonderful and healing for our souls. It really is a blessing and I am glad you have contacted me today. Please. Contact me more. Every time you do I'll remember to work harder.

You could even say that: if, what you think I and the many persons you have slandered in your Tumblr blog are doing is "hate", which-it-is-not, you are wrong and you are a liar, and that your action of attacking individuals such as myself, individuals which YOU deem as hateful, who-they-are-not because you are a liar, results in them working harder to create more content which you believe to be hateful, which-it-is-not because you are wrong and a liar, that you are, indeed, creating that which you claim to fight against. Wouldn't you agree? Either you are the cause of hate, or the people you write about in your web-blog are not creating any hateful content. Maybe some of them do. I wouldn't know. I don't read tumblr blogs from alleged... well we all know what has been alleged against you and your particular... tastes... disgusting. Why even mention it.

I do not care what your pathetic response is.

Shall we begin?

Greg Arcade

I will always be better than you.
